Conscription... floods... deaths... fires... the census... police department difficulties... decrees against gambling... development of a city playground project... the band uniform fund campaign... relief problems, and questions of financing... accidents... elections... rumors of a munitions factory... continued development of industry in the district... the Pumpkin Show.

All joined during 1940 to make the year one of the most momentous in the district's history. Circleville and Pickaway County were in the news often during the last year, and indications are that many more news stories of more than passing interest will be developed during the next 12-month period.

Many will say that the nation's Draft Act that called all men between 21 and 35 to register for a year of military service provided the outstanding story of the year. Others believe the political campaigns should be listed as No. 1 News Story, while other observers of the day's news might express entirely different opinions about the activities of 1940.

Business closed the year with a rush, every factory operator in the district praising the year as one of the best in his firm's history. Ralston-Purina, Eshelman and Sons Mill, the Container Corporation, the city's canning factories, and the smaller businesses completed 1940 with splendid records of achievement that showed improvements in property, higher payrolls and larger personnels. All, without question, expect 1941 to be even better, barring of course, any great emergency. National Defense orders have a direct effect in the city's industries, although none of them turns out airplanes or makes munitions, or produces any other direct product that is a necessity for operation of our peace-time Army.

Among highlights of the year in the news were the following:

JANUARY

January 2 brought the first zero temperature since 1937. Pumpkin Show dates were fixed for October 16-19. William B. Cady took over the duties of the mayor's office, and Joe W. Adkins started to work as solicitor. Postal receipts totalled $37,858 for the year 1939, and Postmaster Hulse Hayes said a $7,000 increase is still necessary to make the office First Class. W. L. Stambaugh was named superintendent of Highway Division 6. A gas main fire halted service to Tarleton and Oakdale. T. W. White was painfully hurt in a fall down cellar steps. The 1940 census was started with A. W. Phillips and John O. Eagleton appointed as enumerators. Fire drove 100 Madison Township pupils into the cold. The Rotary Club planned a Christmas tree fire, postponed it because of extreme cold, and someone set it off anyway. Lawrence Goeller was named chairman of the board of education. Fire levelled the Scioto Township home of William Green. A police department shakeup was threatened by the Civil Service Commission. Sportsmen elected Donald Court-

Few Guests Present

Only a few unannounced guests were invited to the White House. The evening's program was furnished by a Negro WPA chorus from Detroit. It was led by Lahman Hardison, one-time ditch digger. After the concert was over the entire gathering joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mrs. Helen Hamilton introduced a new note to her guests at a popular night spot. She had a milk wagon stationed in front of the night club. Her guests received a bottle of milk as they started homeward.

Police reported few accidents up to an early hour. Automobile traffic was heavy but orderly for the most part, they said.

Holiday Quiet In Circleville

Circleville experienced one of its quietest New Year's eves with local police arresting only one on charges of intoxication, reporting one traffic violation and two accidents. A holiday dance at the Elks drew a capacity crowd, and many groups held private parties.

Wet pavement caused two cars to collide at Court Street and Reber Avenue Tuesday afternoon. As George M. Davis, 116 West Mill Street, driving north on Court Street, attempted to stop at Reber Avenue, his car skidded across the street into the path of the auto driven by Lewis E. Cook, 127 Pleasant Street. The cars collided head-on, damaging the front of both.

Cook, who was thrown against the windshield of his car, received slight head injuries and was taken to Berger Hospital for treatment. Later he was released. Neither

Thousands of gay government workers, their pockets stuffed with money, crowded the cafes, theatres, and the streets to usher in the New Year. Hundreds of private parties were given by members of official Washington, and Washington society.

The celebration was not without its somber note, however. Watch night services at churches throughout the city were crowded to capacity. Early morning mass in Catholic churches drew thousands.

Extra details of police walked the streets as war-jittery Washington gave way to the occasion, and celebrated under a cloudy but warm sky. Fire engines were kept busy answering almost half a hundred false alarms from midnight to early morning.

CORN DOWN SLIGHTLY UNDER AAA PLAN

Pickaway County corn planters were wondering Wednesday what effect a slight reduction ordered for corn acreage in Ohio under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration would have on the local crop. Authorities declared that figured announced by the national AAA would not change the local acreage but slightly if any at all, because the state is permitted to the night club. Her guests received a bottle of milk as they started homeward.

MANY BUILDINGS IN LONDON MUST BE DYNAMITED

LONDON, Jan. 1 — Scores of buildings in the city of London—the famed central region embracing the financial district—were rendered dangerous by Sunday night's fire blitz raid and will have to be dynamited, it was disclosed today.

The condemned buildings include many known all over the world as some of the most beautiful and historic in all London.

Hundreds of royal engineers have been summoned to the capital to carry out the dynamiting of these structures, and also to speed up the demolition of bomb-blasted, fire-gutted wreckage.

LAST OF CONVICTS WHO TRIED TO ESCAPE NABBED

MANSFIELD, Jan. 1—Mike Bykoski, 28, last of 14 convicts who made a short-lived break for freedom from the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield, was to be returned to the institution today from Freedom, Pa., where he was recaptured.

Bykoski's 13 companions were captured in a woods a short distance away from the prison after they fled through a window from which the bars had been removed.

Two of them suffered minor gunshot wounds in a brush with prison guards.

Chili Powder In Boots Wins Liars' Club Title

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 1 — Howard Amberson of Three Forks, Mont., was hailed today as "The Champion Liar of 1940." He was awarded the title by the Burlington Liars Club, Inc.

Amberson's whopper, selected from 5,000 submitted in the annual contest, follows:

"We have all, some time or place, come in contact with one of those individuals never content to let good enough alone, but who holds fast to the idea that if a little is good, more is better.

"We were gathering stock off the range and taking it to the valley ranch for the winter

when it turned terribly cold, which meant extra help. So I hired a young fellow, new to the country.

"The first day he complained of his feet getting cold, so we related to him an old, established practice here on the range. Instead of wearing overshoes or socks, we sprinkle a little red pepper in our boots.

"He went over, consulted the cook, came back and we started out. Before we got half way he was kicking his feet against the stirrups; then he got off and walked, and before long he struck off in a stomping dog trot. Noticing his strange actions, we rode over and finally wrong the truth out of him.

"He said he figured if red pepper was good, chili powder ought to be better. Friction of the chili powder against the ball of his foot as he rode had heated things up inside his boots till it had cooked his bunion, popped his corn—and the reason his toes weren't hurt was because they had hung themselves on the nails."

EDWIN H. BAUM, LAST OF PIONEER FAMILY, IS DEAD

EDWIN HENRY BAUM, 77, the last member of a pioneer Pick-away County family, died Tuesday at 11:40 p. m. at his home, Main Street, Ashville. Mr. Baum, a retired farmer, had been an invalid for many years.

He was born in Madison Township, September 27, 1863, a son of Lewis and Elizabeth Roof Baum.

Surviving are his widow, Dora

Ann Glick Baum, and three daughters, Mrs. L. B. Plum and Mrs. Earl Hoyt of Dayton and Mrs. C. A. Raver of Columbus, Ohio.

There are also five grandchildren.

The funeral will be Friday at 2

p. m. in the St. Paul Lutheran Church, the Rev. E. H. E. Winterhoff officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery, Circleville, by

E. F. Schlegel, Ashville.

SUGAR BOWL—Tennessee, unbeaten and untied, is a slight choice over Boston College, also unbeaten and untied in this New Orleans battle. Football observers predict that this will be the best game of the day. Weather observers predict "mild" weather with occasional rains.

COTTON BOWL—A capacity house of 45,570 is assured for the struggle between the Fordham

Rams and the Texas Aggies. The bettors established the Texans as

8 to 5 favorites. The weatherman said rain was in the offing.

CHURCHES ARE CROWDED

Holiday Quiet Locally; Two Auto Mishaps Are Recorded

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1—On the stroke of midnight President Roosevelt raised a glass of American champagne to his lips and said:

"To the United States."

The President's toast to the New Year was given at a small White House dinner. Outside the quiet of the White House it was the signal for one of the most uproarious celebrations this city has seen in years.

Thousands of gay government workers, their pockets stuffed with money, crowded the cafes, theatres, and the streets to usher in the New Year. Hundreds of private parties were given by members of official Washington, and Washington society.

The celebration was not without its somber note, however. Watch night services at churches throughout the city were crowded to capacity. Early morning mass in Catholic churches drew thousands.

CORN ACREAGE DOWN SLIGHTLY UNDER AAA PLAN

PICKAWAY COUNTY corn planters were wondering Wednesday what effect a slight reduction ordered for corn acreage in Ohio under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration would have on the local crop. Authorities declared that figure announced by the national AAA would not change the local acreage but slightly if any at all, because the state is permitted to plant 2,386,441 acres in 1941, compared with 2,396,291 acres in 1940.

The national allotment totals 37,300,000 acres in 625 counties of 15 corn producing states.

The state allotments will be apportioned among individual growers on the basis of a formula set up in the 1938 farm act. Growers must comply with their allotments.

Full details on President Roosevelt's plan to lend or lease England billions of dollars worth of ships, planes and guns will be revealed Monday when Mr. Roosevelt goes to Capitol Hill to deliver his annual message on the state of the union.

The White House indicated that the message would be more in detail than the President's Sunday night Fireside Chat. The President himself said that his program might allow the English to repay loans of ships and planes by raw materials, such as tin or rubber.

HILARITY TO PREVAIL AT EX-CIRCUS MAN'S RITES

COLUMBUS, Jan. 1—By his own request, laughter and song will mark the final rites tomorrow for Dode Fisk, 81-year-old retired circus owner who died of pneumonia at his Columbus home.

Dode—everyone called him that—loved life and could see nothing to fear in death. So over his coffin hung a sign, lettered in red on a white background, which read:

"No crying or whispering. Laugh, talk, walk around. Have a good time."

Before his death, Dode asked his wife, Lulu, to wear a "party dress" to his funeral. Following the program Dode requested a three-piece jazz band will play such tunes as "The Music Goes Round and Round" and "Happy Days." The only flower at the rites will be a sunflower, artificial, because no real ones are available.

Dode will be buried at Woneok, Wis., his birthplace. For many years he operated "The Dode Fisk Great Combined Show," which he sold in 1909 to John Robinson. Later he took over the management of the New Gay Theatre in Chicago.

CAPITAL DIVIDED OVER DANGER OF PARTICIPATION

Apprehension Is Increased Over Feeling Year Ago In Washington

MANY ANGLES STRESSED

Germany, Italy Adopting Sharper Attitude; Aid To Britain Cited

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1—The United States began the new year today with the capital divided on the probabilities of this nation entering the war, but with apprehension showing a marked increase over a year ago.

The belief that the United States will become a belligerent before the year is out is growing in congress, while the division of opinion among Army and Navy officials split about 50-50 on the question of whether the United States can avoid war.

Few deny that the nation today is far closer to becoming involved than a year ago. They point to the vast augmentation in aid for Britain, adoption of the policy to make this country a great arsenal for those fighting the axis powers, and to increasing denunciations of Britain's enemies by U. S. officials from President Roosevelt down.

In addition, it is not going unnoticed that where a year ago Germany and Italy deliberately avoided ruffling U. S. feelings, they have now adopted a stiffened and steadily sharper attitude toward the role which America is playing.

Some Are Quoted

Most members of congress refuse to be quoted (as do all Army and Navy officials) on the possibility of war in 1941. But here with is presented the opinions of some of those who will speak for publication:

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D) Mont., leader of the non-intervention bloc in congress:

NEW YEAR'S DAY FINDS FOOTBALL BOWL CARD FULL

By International News Service

England was just a bowl of football games today as approximately 345,000 fervid football followers turned out to watch the cream of the collegiate gridiron gladiators march through their paces in seven New Year's Day post-season games from Florida to Hawaii.

Here are the statistics of the various bowl encounters in capsule form:

ROSE BOWL—Approximately 92,000 fans are expected for this oldest and biggest of all "bowl" games. Stanford, the west coast representative, is a 2 to 1 favorite over Nebraska during the regular season. The site is Pasadena, Calif., and the weather forecast is warm and sunny.

SUGAR BOWL—Tennessee, unbeaten and untied, is a slight choice over Boston College also unbeaten and untied in this New Orleans battle. Football observers predict that this will be the best game of the day. Weather forecasters predict "mild weather with occasional rains."

that the United States will find itself at war within a few months."

Senator Capper, Republican of Kansas:

"It looks very threatening to me. We may get in within the next six months, but I hope not."

Representative Woodruff, Republican of Michigan:

"If there was anything needed to convince the people that we are being led into the war it was President Roosevelt's speech last Sunday night."

Senator Lucas, Democrat of Illinois:

"In my opinion America will never send any troops to battle any other nation outside this Hemisphere. President Roosevelt was emphatic on that point Sunday night and it should be clear to everyone."

Some for War

Others, declining to be quoted, are not only convinced that the United States is going to war, but are privately advocating it as a step essential to the nation's future security. So far, however, these are in a decided minority, but nevertheless more than a year ago.

A few definitely think the United States can stay out of war, but are hesitant to make a prediction publicly.

Subsidies will include soil conservation payments at a rate of nine cents a bushel and parity payments at a rate yet to be determined.

The 1941 acreage compares with 36,638,000 acres for 1940 for the commercial area. However, the 1941 commercial area includes 24 counties in Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania not included in the 1940 area.

The 1941 corn acreage goal for the whole country is between 88,000,000 and 90,000,000, or the same as for 1940.

Outside the commercial corn belt acreage allotments for this crop was not provided. However, farmers in the noncommercial area may plant a part of their soil-depleting acreage allotments to corn.

Except in Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania, counties in the 1941 commercial corn area are the same as in 1940.

GAYDA ACCUSES TURKEY OF ACTS OPPOSED TO AXIS

ROME, Jan. 1—Virginia Gayda, press spokesman for Premier Mussolini, today accused Turkey of conducting a "warlike crusade against the axis, especially Italy."

In a sharply worded article, Gayda added:

"The Turkish press in recent weeks has shown itself increasingly and angrily anti-Italian."

The Italian publicist demanded an explanation of the "obscure reasons" for the Turkish attitude. Observers considered Gayda's article highly significant in view of recent developments in the Balkans.

Pickaway County is free from quarantine as the New Year opens. Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, reports, with no new cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria or infantile paralysis on record.

The three county victims of infantile paralysis have been reported fully recovered with none showing permanent physical defects from the disease.

One new case of infantile paralysis was reported by the state department of health Tuesday as it closed its records on one of the most severe outbreaks of the disease in recent years. A total of 631 cases was reported during the year, with 49 deaths. Hamilton, Huron and Champaign Counties now report active cases.

Only 11 counties have reported no cases of the disease this year. They are Wood, Ottawa, Seneca, Wyandot, Crawford, Geauga, Harrison, Guernsey, Muskingum, Perry and Athens.

GAYDA ACCUSES TURKEY OF ACTS OPPOSED TO AXIS

ROME, Jan. 1—Virginia Gayda, press spokesman for Premier Mussolini, today accused Turkey of conducting a "warlike crusade against the axis, especially Italy."

In a sharply worded article, Gayda added:

"The Turkish press in recent weeks has shown itself increasingly and angrily anti-Italian."

damage and few casualties. An Italian tank counter-attack was defeated, the high command stated, and Fascist prisoners and some war materials were captured.

Fierce fighting raged along the western banks of Lake Ochrida today as Greek forces on the northern front pressed forward in a violent new offensive.

In the town of Lin, an important highway junction in the north, bitter hand-to-hand battles were reported in progress.

Latest information reaching Athens said the Greeks were having difficulty in capturing the town owing to the intense cold weather and huge snowdrifts just outside the town where the Italians still hold a number of high-flanking positions.

BOMBERS STRAFED LINES

Italian bombers, meanwhile, heavily strafed the Greek lines near Moscopoli, Pogradec and Koritza. It was estimated four Italian divisions have been concentrated between the Skumbi Valley and Lin, but advices to Athens indicated these reinforcements are being shaken severely by combined British and Greek air attacks.

In Berlin, the official German news agency devoted chief attention to the United States in its review of 1940.

The agency, DND, said Gerfan officials are "meeting hostile American utterances with calm, but also with the alert attention necessitated by the situation."

And in Tokyo Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe warned his countrymen to expect "increased international pressure" this year and to submit to "unprecedented sacrifices."

NEW YEAR FINDS WEATHER GOOD IN COUNTY SEAT

Circleville's weatherman was off to a good start for the New Year Wednesday, with temperatures holding in the mild category and clear skies bringing the first sunshine the city has seen for several days.

New Year's temperatures began at 34 and climbed into the forties during the morning.

Tuesday's high was 40 degrees, Miss Abbe Mills Clarke, local weather observer, reported. December's rainfall totaled 3.32 inches, with 1.4 inches of the total falling last week end and driving the Scioto River up to a 12-foot stage, the highest it has been since spring.

Observers reported Wednesday that the river was falling.

ROTARY BOOKS • FIVE SPEAKERS FOR INSTITUTE

Effort To Promote Better International Knowledge Begins January 22

SCHEDULE OUTSTANDING

Clarence W. Sorensen, CBS Foreign Correspondent, First On List

Four outstanding speakers have been secured for the Rotary Club's annual Institute of International Understanding to be held January 22 and 23 and February 5 and 12 in the social room of the high school building.

Clarence Woodrow Sorensen, Columbia Broadcasting System's foreign correspondent in Mexico City during last summer, will be the first speaker, scheduled to talk Friday, January 22, at 8 p.m. Mr. Sorensen is an explorer, editor and special correspondent, and has traveled in Arabia, Iraq, India and throughout Europe. He has published exclusive stories in The New York Times and the London Illustrated News. He is a member of the Royal Geographical Society in London.

Wednesday, January 29, Dr. Alfred P. Haake, industrial economist will speak on "What's Ahead for Business, Agriculture, Labor?" Dr. Haake is managing editor of the National Wholesale Furniture Association, and editor of "Furniture Management Magazine." He was formerly a professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin and head of the economics department at Rutgers College. He has written and lectured extensively on business conditions and contemporary changes in industry.

Dr. Morrison Listed

"An Impoverished World" will be the subject of Dr. John A. Morrison's lecture, Wednesday, February 5. Dr. Morrison was a member of the Department of Geography at the University of Chicago from 1928 to 1938, and is a specialist in the field of geography of the Soviet Union and of the Near East.

In 1930 and in 1932 Dr. Morrison was a member of the Anatolian Expedition of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. In 1937 he attended the seventeenth International Geological Congress in Moscow, participating in its Siberian excursion. He was in Moscow at the outbreak of the war, September 1, 1939.

Gerhart H. Seger, formerly a member of the German Reichstag and its Committee on Foreign Relations, and now an editor, author and lecturer, will speak at the final institute meeting Wednesday, February 12. Mr. Seger spent four months in a concentration camp at Anhalt, Germany, and was released upon the intervention of prominent British people and made his escape to the United States where he has taken out his first citizenship papers. His subject will be "Human Values in A Changing Order."

Tickets to the Institute will be distributed to Rotarians this week. Proceeds from the Institute are used to benefit Circleville's crippled children.

The committee in charge of the Institute includes Harry Heffner, Earl Lutz, Robert T. Kelsey, Charles Goeller and Frank Fischer.

500 MAROONED BY REICH RAIDERS TAKEN OFF ISLE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Jan. 1—Five hundred marooned men, women and children have been rescued from Emau Island northeast of New Guinea by an Australian ship, Premier Frazer announced today.

Seventy women and children were among the 500 persons marooned on the island by German raiders. They have been taken to Australia.

They were survivors from ships sunk over period of months.

Emau Island is part of the Bismarck archipelago, a former German colony in the Pacific inhabited by Papuans, who once were cannibals.

DISPUTE TAKES MUCH FAVORED MUSIC OFF AIR

Works Of Famed Composers, Members Of ASCAP, Barred From Broadcasts

CONTRACT REACHES END

Old Tunes To Be Featured By Radios; Studio Bands Get Much Action

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 — Millions of American radio listeners today tuned in their sets to programs devoid of the songs of many of the nation's best known composers following severance of contractual relations between the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and the National Association of Broadcasters.

As the year 1941 was ushered in at midnight the five year contract between ASCAP and three quarters of the nation's radio stations, including the NBC, CBS and MBS networks, expired and neither side showed inclination to come to terms.

From last midnight on, the three chains will use tunes of Broadcast Music, Inc., a music publishing house set up by the radio industry to compete against what they term ASCAP's monopoly.

As the result of failure of the broadcasters to come to agreement with ASCAP 1,500,000 songs to which the society holds performing rights will not be heard unless a new contract should be made in the future.

Issuance Provided

BMI, meanwhile, announced that 674 radio stations had joined its membership and ASCAP said 127 independent stations had signed with the society, with the prospect that the number would eventually reach 200. It also announced that it had taken out $1,000,000 insurance to indemnify any station or advertiser that is sued by ASCAP as a result of use of the new BMI catalogue of songs.

Starting at midnight, ASCAP employees in 31 cities throughout the nation began recording musical radio programs to ferret out any copyright infringement.

The chief stations were to rely on tunes from the public domain, those 56 years old at least, and, of course, the BMI tunes.

Complicating the whole dispute, the Department of Justice has announced that it will institute criminal proceedings against NBC, CBS, BMI and ASCAP. These anti-trust suits were expected to start in Milwaukee on January 6.

The tunes controlled by ASCAP represent the works of 55,000 composers and authors in the United States and 21 foreign countries. Among the membership are Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Cole Porter, Jerome Kern, Fritz Kreisler, Carrie Jacobs Bond and George M. Cohen.

Among tunes, thus barred, are "God Bless America," "Sylvia," "The Last Round-Up," "California Here I Come," "St. Louis Blues" and "My Wild Irish Rose." Marches by John Philip Sousa, and musical comedy tunes by Rodgers and Hart and Vincent Youmans also come in this category.

Studio Bands Used

In order to avoid any slip-ups in the New Year's eve program, NBC and CBS broadcast three hours of music by studio bands instead of picking up remote control programs from various hotels and night spots.

Despite withdrawal of ASCAP tunes, the radio stations still have 600,000 songs to choose from, and

Conveyor-Type Locker System Being Built

An automatic conveyor-type locker system, the first of its type ever to be installed in the United States, is being built in Charles Smith's meat market on East Main Street.

The locker system will contain cold-storage space for sixty individual lockers, each with a volume of six cubic feet in which farmers and townsmen may store perishable goods, including meats, fruits and vegetables.

Locker space may be rented by the year with each customer presented a locker key. A person may go to the locker plant, press a button carrying the number of his locker and the locker will be carried by automatic conveyor to the locker-room door. The controls are the same as those on an automatic elevator.

When a person brings meat, vegetables or fruits in for plant storage, it is placed in a quick freezing unit and frozen at 20 degrees below zero. From the quick freezing unit it is wrapped in two layers of specially prepared paper, the inner wrapping being moisture proof to prevent drying, and placed in the locker for storage. Temperatures in the lockers are kept at zero degrees.

T. D. Harman and Charles H. Smith, who are installing the plant, maintain that beef and most fruits and vegetables will keep at least a year. Pork will keep at least six months.

The advantage of the locker plant is that it provides both the farmer and the city dweller with adequate cold-storage space, making wholesale buying of perishable goods possible. Farmers may butcher at any time of the year with

are rapidly lining up new compositions.

John Paine, general manager of ASCAP, disclosed last night that the society and the broadcasters made their last effort to negotiate a peace three weeks ago. He said that he, Irving Berlin and Billy Rose conferred with Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters. He said that ASCAP then agreed to negotiate on the terms proposed by NAB, and that Miller said that he would refer the matter to his board of directors. Paine said he had not heard from Miller since that time.

Paine's statement came in answer to an open letter issued by Miller to the composers, in which he charged that ASCAP gradually had become a monopoly ruthlessly mismanaged for the benefit of a few by a small group responsible to nobody." He charged that group was responsible for the breakdown in negotiations.

Meanwhile, Gene Buck, president of ASCAP, was unable to enter the verbal battle, being confined to his home with a cold.

The chief stations were to rely on tunes from the public domain, those 56 years old at least, and, of course, the BMI tunes.

Complicating the whole dispute, the Department of Justice has announced that it will institute criminal proceedings against NBC, CBS, BMI and ASCAP. These anti-trust suits were expected to start in Milwaukee on January 6.

The tunes controlled by ASCAP represent the works of 55,000 composers and authors in the United States and 21 foreign countries. Among the membership are Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Cole Porter, Jerome Kern, Fritz Kreisler, Carrie Jacobs Bond and George M. Cohen.

Among tunes, thus barred, are "God Bless America," "Sylvia," "The Last Round-Up," "California Here I Come," "St. Louis Blues" and "My Wild Irish Rose." Marches by John Philip Sousa, and musical comedy tunes by Rodgers and Hart and Vincent Youmans also come in this category.

Studio Bands Used

In order to avoid any slip-ups in the New Year's eve program, NBC and CBS broadcast three hours of music by studio bands instead of picking up remote control programs from various hotels and night spots.

Despite withdrawal of ASCAP tunes, the radio stations still have 600,000 songs to choose from, and

Mr. Harman has pointed out. A model of the system, showing how the conveyor works, will be on display at Smith's meat market until January 20.

COUNTY EDUCATORS TO MEET WEDNESDAY EVE

The Pickaway County school board will meet in County Superintendent George McDowell's office Wednesday night for a regular meeting.

Routine business is expected to be conducted during the meeting.

MORE PLANS FOR SCHOOL DEFENSE WORK STUDIED

Further plans for county school participation in the government's National Defense-Vocational Guidance program are expected to be made when school superintendents from county schools meets in Superintendent George McDowell's office Thursday at 3 p.m.

Although no action is expected to be taken, the vocational training program in any of the schools of the county has yet been taken, several of the local boards have indicated they were interested in considering the plans further.

Circleville school board is likewise investigating the possibilities of setting up such a program in the city schools.

ROTARY BOOKS • FIVE SPEAKERS FOR INSTITUTE

Effort To Promote Better International Knowledge Begins January 22

SCHEDULE OUTSTANDING

Clarence W. Sorensen, CBS Foreign Correspondent, First On List

Four outstanding speakers have been secured for the Rotary Club's annual Institute of International Understanding to be held January 22 and 23 and February 5 and 12 in the social room of the high school building.

Clarence Woodrow Sorensen, Columbia Broadcasting System's foreign correspondent in Mexico City during last summer, will be the first speaker, scheduled to talk Wednesday, January 22, at 8 p.m. Mr. Sorensen is an explorer, editor and special correspondent, and has traveled in Arabia, Iraq, India and throughout Europe. He has published exclusive stories in The New York Times and the London Illustrated News. He is a member of the Royal Geographical Society in London.

Wednesday, January 29, Dr. Alfred P. Haake, industrial economist, will speak on "What's Ahead for Business, Agriculture, Labor?" Dr. Haake is managing editor of the National Wholesale Furniture Association, and editor of "Furniture Management Magazine." He was formerly a professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin and head of the economics department at Rutgers College. He has written and lectured extensively on business conditions and contemporary changes in industry.

Dr. Morrison Listed

"An Impoverished World" will be the subject of Dr. John A. Morrison's lecture, Wednesday, February 5. Dr. Morrison was a member of the Department of Geography at the University of Chicago from 1928 to 1938, and is a specialist in the field of geography of the Soviet Union and of the Near East.

In 1930 and in 1932 Dr. Morrison was a member of the Anatolian Expedition of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. In 1937 he attended the seventeenth International Geological Congress in Moscow, participating in its Siberian excursion. He was in Moscow at the outbreak of the war, September 1, 1939.

Gerhart H. Seger, formerly a member of the German Reichstag and its Committee on Foreign Relations, and now an editor, author and lecturer, will speak at the final institute meeting Wednesday, February 12. Mr. Seger spent four months in a concentration camp at Anhalt, Germany, and was released upon the intervention of prominent British people and made his escape to the United States where he has taken out his first citizenship papers. His subject will be "Human Values in A Changing Order."

Tickets to the Institute will be distributed to Rotarians this week. Proceeds from the Institute are used to benefit Circleville's crippled children.

The committee in charge of the Institute includes Harry Heffner, Earl Lutz, Robert T. Kelsey, Charles Goeller and Frank Fischer.

500 MAROONED BY REICH RAIDERS TAKEN OFF ISLE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Jan. 1—Five hundred marooned men, women and children have been rescued from Emara Island northeast of New Guinea by an Australian ship, Premier Frazer announced today.

Seventy women and children were among the 500 persons marooned on the island by German raiders. They have been taken to Australia.

They were survivors from ships sunk over a period of months.

Emara Island is part of the Bismarck archipelago, a former German colony in the Pacific inhabited by Papuans, who once were cannibals.

Conveyor-Type Locker System Being Built

An automatic conveyor-type locker system, the first of its type ever to be installed in the United States, is being built in Charles Smith's meat market on East Main Street.

The locker system will contain cold-storage space for sixty individual lockers, each with a volume of six cubic feet in which farmers and townsmen may store perishable goods, including meats, fruits and vegetables.

Locker space may be rented by the year with each customer presented a locker key. A person may go to the locker plant, press a button carrying the number of his locker and the locker will be carried by automatic conveyor to the locker-room door. The controls are the same as those on an automatic elevator.

When a person brings meat, vegetables or fruits in for plant storage, it is placed in a quick freezing unit and frozen at 20 degrees below zero. From the quick freezing unit it is wrapped in two layers of specially prepared paper, the inner wrapping being moisture proof to prevent drying, and placed in the locker for storage. Temperatures in the lockers are kept at zero degrees.

T. D. Harman and Charles H. Smith, who are installing the plant, maintain that beef and most fruits and vegetables will keep at least a year. Pork will keep at least six months.

The advantage of the locker plant is that it provides both the farmer and the city dweller with adequate cold-storage space, making wholesale buying of perishable goods possible. Farmers may butcher at any time of the year with-

are rapidly lining up new compositions.

John Paine, general manager of ASCAP, disclosed last night that the society and the broadcasters made their last effort to negotiate a peace three weeks ago. He said that he, Irving Berlin and Billy Rose conferred with Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters. He said that ASCAP then agreed to negotiate on the terms proposed by NAB, and that Miller said that he would refer the matter to his board of directors. Paine said he had not heard from Miller since that time.

RESOLUTION FOR U. S.

THERE is one resolution every sincere believer in American democracy should make on this New Year's Day. He should resolve to give the Bill of Rights much more than lip service during 1941.

What is the Bill of Rights? Where did it come from? Why is it a part of the Constitution of the United States? Are there any threats to it within the nation, as there clearly are outside?

The Bill of Rights was put into the basic law of this country 149 years ago because the citizens of the young nation held certain principles vital to the "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" which they had claimed in the Declaration of Independence. It consisted of ten amendments to the Constitution, as originally framed, which set up specific rights and forbade certain governmental burdens and injustices.

The greatest article of the Bill of Rights is the first which provides freedom of speech, press, religion and peaceable assembly. In times of stress and upheaval there are always people willing to abridge that freedom by law or by social pressure applied outside the law. National wisdom and safety lie first in understanding the Bill of Rights thoroughly, and second in defending them against all challengers, whether foreign aggressors or native betrayers.

BAD RISKS

IT is reported that Dun & Bradstreet's, the New York credit agency, is going to register men known to indulge in gambling as "poor credit risks." Very likely this has been done for some time by credit experts, although not so openly. The frank ban put on such pursuits may make quite a bit of difference in social and business habits.

There is a growing tendency to be likewise realistic and defensive about people known as heavy or irresponsible drinkers. In the realm of credit, and even in the social realm, such practices are regarded less as pleasant and venial vices, and more as plain nuisances. This trend may be more evident after New Year's. All of which pains reckless old-timers, but is rather reassuring to most people.

There was a time when "the only thing we had to fear" was fear itself." Maybe what we should fear now is lack of fear. Too many Americans are too complacent.

Sure, "right will win", if it doesn't take the wrong way.

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . .

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

TWO OUTSTANDING western newspapermen appear to be squaring off for what looks like developing into an exceedingly hot fight over America's policy relative to today's overseas war situation.

One of the pair is Editor William Allen White of the Emporia, Kan. Gazette, with his Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. Of course, this means "by aiding Britain," but the White committee was organized when John Bull did have an ally in France, now out of the conflict.

Editor White's recent challenger is Editor Verne Marshall of the Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette, with his No Foreign War Committee, just incorporated in the Hawkeye state, but committed to a campaign on a national scale.

Production Chief William S. Knudsen of our national defense organization also has provoked some pretty sharp retorts by his intimations that our industrialists and labor don't seem to appreciate the "terrible urgency" of existing international conditions. Our big industrialists, to be sure, haven't said anything particularly sassy in reply to Chief Knudsen's remarks, but labor leaders have.

The British ad Editor White is claming for is "aid short of war"—that is, short of our participation in it. Editor Marshall, however, insists that Editor White's activities in reality are creating "just the psychology that led us into the last world configuration." His idea's to squirt water upon Editor White's flames in order to prevent them from getting beyond control again, as they did the last time.

WHITE IN 1915

Editor White, it's true, tried hard to keep us from getting into that war. In 1915 he published an editorial in his Emporia Gazette urging us, for heaven's sake, to stay neutral, as "guardians of the sacred ark of civilization." Editor Marshall has dug up this editorial, and wants to know why the Kansas' tone is so different today. Editor White says it isn't, but Editor Marshall says it is.

The Iowa editor emphasizes that he's all for impregnable American defense and that he deems American aid to Britain desirable, but that it mustn't "drag us into war." He defies anybody to call him and his new committee appeasers, totalitarians or anything but "determined pro-Americans."

Nevertheless, that's what the White committlemen are beginning to call their rival committee members, and all signs are that the controversy will get bitterer as it wags along.

Defense Production Chief Knudsen's observation that industry and labor must be sold on our armament program was the crack that got over-heatedly under our workingmen's leaders' colars — both A. F. of L.'s and C. I. O.'s, wide as their differences may be on other subjects.

A. F. of L. promptly announced that labor's been sold on defense all along, and that this isn't a suitable juncture for hysteria—the impression he gives being that the hysteria is Chief Knudsen's.

President Philip Murray of C. I. O. goes President Green one better, with his assertion that, if defense preparations are lagging, it's due to the defense commission's "stupid method" of distributing its orders. Plainly expressed, the commission's stupid, including Knudsen, according to Phil Murray.

PLAYING POLITICS

There are industrial leaders who, without being quite as outspoken as Phil, complain that the commission hasn't sufficiently spread out its requisitions for defensive supplies. Their story is that contracts have been allocated on the strength of comparatively a few companies' political pull, thus swamping this few with work and creating bottlenecks.

In short, the developing atmosphere in Washington is growing decidedly ill natured.

So, apparently, is the atmosphere out in the sticks, if Editors White of Kansas and Marshall of Iowa are representative of it.

All hands enthusiastically endorse unity, but various and numerous groups endorse conflicting kinds of it. There's an obvious need of hitting on an average, but no noticeable tendency in that direction at present.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ROOSEVELT ANGERED

WASHINGTON—Cabinet circles are still buzzing over the brickbat tossed at the last cabinet meeting by Roosevelt at Joseph P. Kennedy, resigned but still unplaced Ambassador to Britain.

Kennedy's name was brought up by a cabinet member who stated that he had been reliably informed that the America First Committee planned to use recent statements of Kennedy's to fight the President's proposal to loan armaments to Britain. He added that Kennedy was at Palm Beach preparing, with the aid of a ghost writer, several articles for a national weekly advocating an isolationist policy and a determined drive to force a negotiated peace on England.

Roosevelt remarked that he had heard the first report. Then pausing for a moment, he added that if Kennedy did take such a stand he would be characterized by a short but very damning word.

ROOSEVELT'S SLEEP

If you want to know how the President stands the gaff, one answer is found in the simple fact that he sleeps hard and sleeps late.

On the night after Christmas, he worked into the small hours composing the radio speech of last Sunday. And this followed three hours of social affairs in the early part of the evening.

He and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained at dinner for debutante Joan Morgenstern, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury. After dinner, the President stood in line to receive 505 guests to the reception for Miss Morgenstern.

The receiving took from 10 o'clock until 10:35—which means that the guests were sped along at the rate of 4 seconds for each greeting. Then the President went up to his study and, while sounds of the dance came to him from the East room, prepared his address to the nation.

The President's last sentence was written shortly before the last guest left the White House, which was 3:15 a. m.

That made a hard day, but there followed a good long sleep. He slept so long that he was a half hour late for his 10:30 press conference next morning. Jokingly, he blamed his lateness on the alarm clock the Gridiron widows gave him.

When one of the newsmen asked what time he sets the clock to alarm, he laughed and said, "Early. Call Me Early, Mother Dear!"

CAPITAL CHAFF

Usually a White House aide performs the social function of introducing guests to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. But at the party for Joan Morgenstern, this big job was suddenly thrust on young Robert Morgenthau, second son of the Secretary, who is a student at Princeton . . . Swankiest newsman at the White House press conference is Robert Horton, press officer for the Defense Commission, who, while most of the others are hoofing to their offices after the conference, drives away in a limousine with a chauffeur . . . Some of the electric light bulbs used in the White

DIET AND HEALTH

Women and Weather

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

• Why are women able to stand hotter rooms than men?

One of my crusades which concerns this question, has been subjected to experimental investigation, so I can now talk about it mathematically. I have for years stated that American rooms and office buildings had a worse climate in winter than in summer, were more unendurable and less

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

hygienic. The outward and visible sign of this is that most of the time nowadays the men are saying, "For heaven's sake, let's open a window and get some air in here!" and the women are saying "Close that window; it makes a draft that goes all the way up and down my spine."

Does this mean that women are more cold-blooded than men? Partly, yes, according to Dr. C. P. Yaglou, Associate Professor at Harvard School of Public Health. Under the same ordinary conditions—temperature of room 71° F. and 30 per cent humidity—the surface or skin temperature of women is about two degrees lower than that of men. During killing weather in the summer, men are more affected than women, the ladies being quite content with ordinary room temperature.

But few office buildings or homes in America are at 70° F. in cold weather. They are closer to 80° or 85° and the humidity is closer to 10 than 30.

Clothes Make the Difference

The chief difference which causes the male and female reaction to this is clothes. The American male dabs, about November 1st, clothes, the weight and consistency of which would keep him comfortable out of doors at the North Pole. The American female changes the weight of her house clothes hardly at all, winter or summer. Personally I long ago adopted the plan of wearing very light weight clothes in the winter and depending on an overcoat to keep me comfortable out of doors. When I have to work outdoors, go hunting or play golf, it's different, but most American men live in the winter under the same conditions I do.

Answer—Yes, I have known cases that were not detected for years and years simply because there was no cough. In fact, there may be no symptoms whatever although the usual ones are a feeling of being tired, loss of weight in spite of a good appetite, and afternoon fever, with rapid pulse and low blood pressure. A great many people who have no cough complain of catching cold easily which, of course, is the same thing as having a chronic cough.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

D. O. T.—"What are the symptoms of tuberculosis? Can a person have it without a cough?"

Answer—Yes, I have known cases that were not detected for years and years simply because there was no cough. In fact, there may be no symptoms whatever although the usual ones are a feeling of being tired, loss of weight in spite of a good appetite, and afternoon fever, with rapid pulse and low blood pressure. A great many people who have no cough complain of catching cold easily which, of course, is the same thing as having a chronic cough.

Snake Venom

What is the value of cobra venom as a drug in medicine?

It can best be realized by noticing that in 1936 the number of boxes furnished to physicians was 26; in 1937, 80; in 1938, 335; in 1939, 750 and in 1940, 2,000 boxes of cobra venom were used by the medical profession in the United States. Cobra venom in the pure state is poisonous because of its composition consists of a chemical which kills nerves, called neuro-toxin. This has been isolated and prepared so that it relieves intractable pain. It has a wide margin of safety over opium narcotics. Some thirty different disease conditions, including shingles and the crises of locomotor ataxia are listed as being suitable for its use.

Men wearing women's summer clothes are perfectly comfortable at a room temperature of 85°.

I wish the weights could be still further equalized so American winter rooms could have more humidity. If there is any one thing probably proved that has an influence on the common cold, it is dry rooms.

Snake Venom

What is the value of cobra venom as a drug in medicine?

It can best be realized by noticing that in 1936 the number of boxes furnished to physicians was 26; in 1937, 80; in 1938, 335; in 1939, 750 and in 1940, 2,000 boxes of cobra venom were used by the medical profession in the United States. Cobra venom in the pure state is poisonous because of its composition consists of a chemical which kills nerves, called neuro-toxin. This has been isolated and prepared so that it relieves intractable pain. It has a wide margin of safety over opium narcotics. Some thirty different disease conditions, including shingles and the crises of locomotor ataxia are listed as being suitable for its use.

Do you know whether you can help or not, Nancy, but I must talk to someone; I have to. I'm so darn mad I don't know what to do—yet I don't know if I should be mad or what.

"I'll do them now," I promised. "It won't take long."

With that Cary went to his own desk in the library, and I began replacing the lost notes. By the time that was done he had another list ready for me, and the work went along for a week without break.

But that week wasn't all work.

My hours were broken by tramps to the fishing settlement with Kaye, Johnny Wing trudging behind us; by long delightful rides with the four cousins, and each night, before I went to bed, I slipped out of the house for a brisk walk. Sometimes I went alone, sometimes Mark or one of the girls went with me. Cary rarely accompanied me unless one or more of the others were along.

If it had not been for his gentle attentiveness and the caressing note in his voice when we were alone together, I might have thought that scene in the library above was only a dream. But they told me that he was biding his time, waiting for the "some day" I had stipulated.

During that week, I came to know Janet well and to admire her for her sterling qualities and unfailing good nature. She was really a remarkable character, helping Mrs. Gould in the management of the house, reading for hours to the old captain—he had contracted a heavy cold which confined him to his rooms on the second floor—and cuddling and cheering the rest of the house.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. O. T.—"What are the symptoms of tuberculosis? Can a person have it without a cough?"

Answer—No, not in any form.

Editor's Note:

Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by sending 10 cents.

For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, care of the New York Times, 350 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet"; "Indigestion and Constipation"; "Reducing and Gaining Weight"; "Infant Feeding"; "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes"; "Feminine Hygiene"; and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

$1,095, making a total of $2,042, with all but $897 of this covered by insurance.

us. I include myself because she took me under her wing and babied me—or tried to—as much as she did Kaye.

Miss Althesa seldom had anything to say to the four cousins, and she ignored completely. She contented herself with biting speeches, coarse and critical, and she still reads to listen to the daily reading of the book. These readings now took place in the room connecting with the captain's bedroom. When he could no longer easily go up and down the long stairs, that room was made into a sort of study for him, and there the afternoon tea was served, followed by the daily reading.

"Are you terribly busy, Nancy?"

I looked up to see Kaye standing in the archway.

RESOLUTION FOR U. S.

THREE is one resolution every sincere believer in American democracy should make on this New Year's Day. He should resolve to give the Bill of Rights much more than lip service during 1941.

What is the Bill of Rights? Where did it come from? Why is it a part of the Constitution of the United States? Are there say threats to it within the nation, as there clearly are outside?

The Bill of Rights was put into the basic law of this country 149 years ago because the citizens of the young nation held certain principles vital to the "life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness" which they had claimed in the Declaration of Independence. It consisted of ten amendments to the Constitution, as originally framed, which set up specific rights and forbade certain governmental burdens and injustices.

The greatest article of the Bill of Rights is the first which provides freedom of speech, press, religion and peaceable assembly. In times of stress and upheaval there are always people willing to abridge that freedom by law or by social pressure applied "outside the law." National wisdom and safety lie first in understanding the Bill of Rights thoroughly, and second in defending them against all challengers, whether foreign aggressors or native betrayers.

BAD RISKS

It is reported that Dun & Bradstreet's, the New York credit agency, is going to register men known to indulge in gambling as "poor credit risks." Very likely this has been done for some time by credit experts, although not so openly. The frank ban put on such pursuits may make quite a bit of difference in social and business habits.

There is a growing tendency to be likewise realistic and defensive about people known as heavy or irresponsible drinkers. In the realm of credit, and even in the social realm, such practices are regarded less as pleasant and venial vices, and more as plain nuisances. This trend may be more evident after New Year's. All of which pains reckless old-timers, but is rather reassuring to most people.

There was a time when "the only thing we had to fear" was fear itself." Maybe what we should fear now is lack of fear. Too many Americans are too complacent.

Sure, "right will win", if it doesn't take the wrong way.

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . .

TWO OUTSTANDING western newspapermen appear to be squaring off for what looks like developing into an exceedingly hot fight over America's policy relative to today's overseas war situation.

One of the pair is Editor William Allen White of the Emporia, Kan., Gazette, with his Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. Of course, this means "by aiding Britain," but the White committee was organized when John Bull did have an ally in France, now out of the conflict.

Editor White's recent challenger is Editor Verne Marshall of the Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette, with his No Foreign War Committee, just incorporated in the Hawkeye state, but committed to a campaign on a national scale.

Production Chief William S. Knudsen of our national defense organization also has provoked some pretty sharp retorts by his intimations that our industrialists and labor don't seem to appreciate the "terrible urgency" of existing international conditions. Our big industrialists, to be sure, haven't said anything particularly sassy in reply to Chief Knudsen's remarks, but labor leaders have.

The British aid Editor White is clamoring for "aid short of war"—that is, short of our participation in it. Editor Marshall, however, insists that Editor White's activities in reality are creating "just the psychology that led us into the last world configration." His idea's to squirt water upon Editor White's flames in order to prevent them from getting beyond control again, as they did the last time.

WHITE IN 1915

Editor White, it's true, tried hard to keep us from getting into that war. In 1915 he published an editorial in his Emporia Gazette urging us, for heaven's sake, to stay neutral, as "guardians of the sacred ark of civilization." Editor Marshall has dug up this editorial, and wants to know why the Kansas' tone is so different today. Editor White says it isn't, but Editor Marshall says it is.

The Iowa editor emphasizes that he's all for impregnable American defense and that he deems American aid to Britain desirable, but that it mustn't "drag us into war." He defies anybody to call him and his new committee appeasers, totalitarians or anything, but "determined pro-Americans."

Nevertheless, that's what the White committee are beginning to call their rival committee members, and all signs are that the controversy will get bitterer yet as it wags along.

Defense Production Chief Knudsen's observation that industry and labor must be sold on our armament program was the crack that got over-heatedly under our workingmen's leaders' colars — both A. F. of L.'s and C. I. O.'s, wide as their differences may be on other subjects.

President William Green of A. F. of L. promptly announced that labor's been sold on defense all along, and that this isn't a suitable juncture for hysteria—the impression he gives being that the hysteria is Chief Knudsen's.

President Philip Murray of C. I. O. goes President Green one better, with his assertion that, if defense preparations are lagging, it's due to the defense commission's "stupid method" of distributing its orders. Plainly expressed, the commission's stupid, including Knudsen, according to Phil Murray.

PLAYING POLITICS?

There are industrial leaders who, without being quite as outspoken as Phil, complain that the commission hasn't sufficiently spread out its requisitions for defense supplies. Their story is that contracts have been allocated on the strength of comparatively a few companies' political pull, thus swamping this few with work and creating bottlenecks.

In short, the defensive atmosphere in Washington is growing decidedly ill natured.

So, apparently, is the atmosphere out in the sticks, if Editors White of Kansas and Marshall of Iowa are representative of it.

All hands enthusiastically endorse unity, but various and numerous groups endorse conflicting kinds of it. There's an obvious need of hitting on an average, but no noticeable tendency in that direction at present.

Annual Elks New Year's Dance Proves Success

100 Couples Have Gala Evening
At Club

About 100 couples gathered at the Elks Club New Year's Eve, participating in one of the smartest social affairs of the winter when the entire club home was opened for their enjoyment. For some it was their first experience of the genial hospitality of the organization; for others, the anticipated highlight of the holidays; for all, the last word in delightful entertainment.

The dance hall boasted an elaborately draped false ceiling of fringed festoons of red and white. Alternating red and white shaded lights on the graceful strands cast a soft glow over the dancers, making an everchanging color picture with the lovely pastel shades of the dainty formal gowns, many of these featuring bouffant net skirts in sharp contrast to the snugly fitted bodices of taffeta or satin.

The seasonable feature of the decorations was the large "Happy New Year" posters on the side walls, which showed the figure of the small New Year bursting through the first page of a 1941 calendar.

Highly successful was the first appearance in Circleville of the dance band of Cedric Adams of Springfield, which played sweet swing from 11 p. m. until 3 o'clock in the morning. The orchestra of 12 pieces featured a five man "sax" section in the Glenn Miller style and a young man vocalist. New and old familiar numbers were heard in unusual arrangements, the aggregation carrying its own New York City arranger, and many requests for repeat numbers were granted during the evening. The band playing from the shell in the corner of the dance floor was a pleasing innovation.

At midnight, balloons, caps, confetti and a bewildering variety of noise-makers were showered on the dancers who joined heartily in using them to welcome the New Year.

An excellent lunch was served in the dining room during the intermission period.

William Crist headed the general committee for the affair which established a new record for successful entertainment. Gerald Hanley, George Myers, Donald Goeller, L. P. Linehan, Clarence Wolf, Karl Herrmann, S. M. Cryer and Gilbert Starkey shared responsibility with him for the plans for the occasion.

Among the out-of-town visitors were noted Mr. and Mrs. Tod Raper, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Mader, Miss Mearle Mithoff, William Shupe, Mrs. Nelle Phillips, Evan Phillips, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. M. Louer, Highland Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. George Elsass, John Hess, Frank Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Blankenship, Miss Mildred Kelley, Robert Lemley, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, New Holland; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Radcliff, Williamsport.

Many supper and cocktail parties were enjoyed preceding the dance, one of the largest being that arranged by Mr. and Mrs.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

NO HURRY ABOUT IT

ALL PLAYERS know the axiomatic rule about laying down the card that assures immediate defeat of a contract rather than trying for a bigger set which may possibly result in not beating it at all. But when some other move may be made which in no way jeopardizes your chances of beating the declarer, but merely promises that you will give him a worse beating, the thing to do is to forget the first rule. Remember that at all times your winning objective is to put points on your side of the score sheet—as many as you can—while limiting the opponents' score to as small a size as possible.

West should really have been allowed to try for his 3-No Trumps, at which North and South could have beaten him with any kind of defense, but apparently both sides were determined upon bad bidding, producing an unnecessary sacrifice on this deal!

For the side which finally got the contract.

Three club leads by West were climaxized by East ruffing the third with his Q because he thought he saw a sure set, which he proceeded to realize by then laying down his heart A. That set up the entire heart suit, in view of the marked finesse, and the only other trick taken by the defenders was the spade K, which West scored later.

East could have given South a worse dose of medicine by holding on with his heart A and instead leading a diamond to the dummy's A, thus taking an entry out of that hand. Figure out for yourself how the progress of play would have gone then. East could easily have seen that there was nothing in the dummy on which South might discard losing hearts. There would have been no risk to this play, except on the positive side that it might produce a bigger set by a trick or two.

That set up the entire heart suit, in view of the marked finesse, and the only other trick taken by the defenders was the spade K, which West scored later.

East could have given South a worse dose of medicine by holding on with his heart A and instead leading a diamond to the dummy's A, thus taking an entry out of that hand. Figure out for yourself how the progress of play would have gone then. East could easily have seen that there was nothing in the dummy on which South might discard losing hearts. There would have been no risk to this play, except on the positive side that it might produce a bigger set by a trick or two.

West should really have been allowed to try for his 3-No Trumps, at which North and South could have beaten him with any kind of defense, but apparently both sides were determined upon bad bidding, producing an unnecessary sacrifice on this deal!

For the side which finally got the contract.

Three club leads by West were climaxized by East ruffing the third with his Q because he thought he saw a sure set, which he proceeded to realize by then laying down his heart A. Date Pudding

1 cup dates 1 tbsp. flour
1 cup nut meats 2 tbsp. baking powder
3 eggs 1 cup sugar 1/2 tsp. salt

Grease a shallow pan. Wash dates, if not pasteurized, seed and cut in small pieces, break nut meats coarsely, mix with dates. Beat egg yolks well, add sugar gradually, beating it in; mix flour with baking powder and stir in yolk mixture. Stir in dates and nuts, and last fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into greased pan and bake in 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Cool, and when serving cut in squares and serve with a dab of whipped cream on each serving.

Rice and Tomato Croquettes

3 cups brown rice 2 cloves sugar 1/4 tsp. pepper
1 cup cream stock corns

2 cups canned tomatoes 1 tsp. salt

1 slice onion 1/4 cup grated cheese
1 sliced carrot 1 tbsp. butter
1 sprig parsley 2 cups milk
1/2 tsp. salt cayenne

Wash rice and steam in stock until rice has absorbed stock. Cook tomatoes for 20 minutes with onion, carrot, parsley, thyme, cloves, peppercorns and sugar. Rub through strainer, add rice and cook until rice is soft. Remove from fire, add slightly beaten egg, cheese, butter and cayenne and gradually, beating well, then add well-beaten eggs and then dry ingredients gradually. Turn into greased pans and bake about 30 minutes in 350 degree oven. If you make it into a loaf instead of layers it will require 50 minutes to 1 hour to bake. Allow cake to stand in pans for five minutes, then turn out and frost with brown sugar cream frosting, and garnish with nut meats.

Carrot Marmalade

4 cups chopped 2 lemons carrots 1 orange

Water to cover 4 cups sugar

Put carrots through food grinder and cook in water to cover until water is absorbed. Grind orange and lemon and add to carrots with sugar. Boil 1 1/2 hours in jelly glasses and seal.

The News Behind the News

What do you find in the newspaper you are holding in your hands?

On the front page, headlines; history bursting into shape before your eyes...

Then, on the inner pages, news you might not at first recognize as such... pages of advertising from your local stores. Pages of merchandise... an assortment of wares so varied and so complete it would take you weeks to inspect it in person!

News? Yes! Not to shake the world, perhaps, but important to matters you care about. The new dress Mary wants for the Prom (here is one illustrated and you had no idea it would cost so little). Or Junior's new bicycle (you could not very well have guessed that the sporting-goods store was having a sale!).

Newspaper advertising saves you money—you can compare prices better than you could by store-to-store searching. It saves you time—you can decide just where to go before you start. And it saves you mistakes—These goods are sold exactly as advertised!

So read all the news in the newspapers! Sometimes the advertisements can mean more to you than all the foreign dispatches on Page One!

563,507 POUNDS OF COMMODITIES GIVEN TO RELIEF CLIENTS

FOODSTUFFS IN HUGE AMOUNTS GIVEN TO NEEDY

Others Benefit, Also, With Supply Made Large By Foreign Trade Fall

SHOES, BLANKETS LISTED

Potatoes Weighing 124,700 Comprise Largest Item in Canter's List

Commodities weighing 563,507 pounds were distributed during the last year to Pickaway County clients of the relief office. Wade Canter, who handles the big task of distribution of the commodities, revealed Wednesday that the county received 684,932 pounds of commodities during the year and had 121,425 pounds on hand as the year ended, making a total of 563,507 distributed.

The case load of 715 on the active roll is the largest the relief office has ever carried. This heavy load is due to the increased amount of food available, making it possible to give food not only to general relief cases but also to cases under Social Security.

The following received commodities during 1940 in addition to relief clients: Pickaway County Home, Pickaway County Children's Home, Deer Creek, Perry, Scioto, Walnut and Washington Township Schools for school lunches, the institution for feeble-minded at Orient, and the Kiwanis Club camp for underprivileged children. The Orient shipment was comprised of a carload of apples, earmarked for the institution.

Foreign Market Halted

Canter said that his office had been informed that so much food was available for relief clients because the foreign market for much of the food was cut off because of the war.

His distribution of commodities during the year included apples, 122,640 pounds; corn meal, 46,800 pounds; cabbage, 24,018 pounds; bacon, 10,142 pounds; eggs, 16,350 dozen; flour, 119,560 pounds; grapefruit, 15,300 pounds; ham, 7,183 pounds; lard, 19,860 pounds; milk, 12,720 cans;

Oranges, 30,800 pounds; peaches, 300 cans; prunes, 26,880 pounds; salt pork, 10,600 pounds; pears, 13,331 pounds; potatoes, 124,700 pounds; raisins, 25,000 pounds; rice, 9,000 pounds; beans, 14,500 pounds; butter, 3,700 pounds; tomatoes, 12,150 pounds; wheat cereal, 13,818 pounds.

Other articles received during the year for distribution included 432 cotton blankets, 180 pairs of Army shoes and 1,755 yards of sheeting.

These May Be British War Aims to be Announced

THIS map reveals what are expected to be the war aims to be announced by the British government early in 1941. Withdrawal of Germany behind her pre-Hitler frontiers, will be the major point, it is believed. Shaded area shows territory now under direct German control.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

the Panama-American, would be closed by the Government.

Meanwhile, the State Department, worried over the situation, soon will shake up its embassy staff in Panama, put one of its skilled trouble-shooters on the job.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Although the Roosevelt Good Neighbor program has been about 99 percent successful in Latin America, there is one contrary spot which is causing Army and Navy officials genuine worry.

That spot is the most strategic of all countries below the Rio Grande—Panama.

Panama is now governed by a president who has all the earmarks of leaning toward the Axis and who is holding back on the granting of important emergency landing fields, anti-aircraft and searchlight positions on Panamanian territory to the U. S.

The President, Arnulfo Arias, served for six years as Panamanian minister in continental Europe, and now fêtes Italian and German consuls in Panama while ignoring the British and Americans.

He has also chosen as his Secretary a near-albino named Antonio Isaza, who served as consul in Hamburg and whose fair hair and blue eyes have caused him to be great rooster for the Nazi theory of supremacy of the Aryan race. Isaza seems firmly convinced that Hitler is sure to dominate the world and has had great influence with his chief in the presidential palace.

It is important to remember that in order to defend the Panama Canal, army operations outside the actual Canal Zone, on territory of the Panama Republic, are necessary. This was provided for by the first treaty negotiated by Secretary of War William Howard Taft, and gave the U. S. Army the right to use Panamanian soil during emergencies.

Truit R. Timmons adds name to volunteers

However, the Panamanian Government under President Arnulfo Arias is now talking about ousting U. S. forces from the vital U. S. Army air field at Rio Hato, which is on Panamanian soil, and is holding back on granting various emergency airports and anti-aircraft gun emplacements.

So pronounced are the Nazi leanings of the President that his brother, Harmodio Arias, most influential newspaper publisher in Panama, has quarreled with him. Harmodio Arias gave Panama four years of excellent government as President from 1932 to 1936 and is one of the chief boosters of Panamanian cooperation. His opposition, however, has brought threats that his paper, Incense is burned in many British air raid shelters. Maybe that's the reason every Britisher was issued a gas mask.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Porter and son Robert of Omaha, Neb., visited Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Nellie Drake and daughter Joan.

OHIO TEACHERS PLAN SESSIONS

Education Association To Have Mid-Winter Meeting In Columbus

Approximately 2,000 of Ohio's public school teachers and administrators will meet in Columbus on January 3-4 for the 93rd annual meeting of the Ohio Education Association. Determination of the association's policy for 1941 on school legislation and discussions planned for professional improvement will occupy the attention of the educators during the two-day session, according to Executive Secretary Walton E. Bliss.

Harold A. Strous, superintendent at Salterick Township school and Judson Lamman, principal at Walnut, will be Pickaway County's official delegates at the meeting in Columbus.

Circleville schools will be represented by Joseph Horst of the high school faculty.

Scheduled for consideration at the business sessions of the Representative Assembly, official delegate body of the O.E.A., on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening are the association's legislative program, the report of its continuing contract and building commissions, and the recommendations of its research division, the Educational Council.

Eighteen departmental groups have scheduled meetings for Saturday morning on professional problems related to teaching and administration in special fields. Among the speakers who will address these groups are the following: Dr. L. H. Dennis, Executive Secretary of the American Vocational Association; Dr. W. S. Gray, University of Chicago; Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, Cleveland; Dr. Harry A. Jager, U. S. Office of Education; and Vaughn Blanchard, Supervisor of Health Education in the Detroit Public Schools.

the Panama-American, would be closed by the Government.

Meanwhile, the State Department, worried over the situation, soon will shake up its embassy staff in Panama, put one of its skilled trouble-shooters on the job.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The Republican, GOP monthly, nominated for its "Class of '40" the following: "Most Popular Boy"—President Roosevelt; "Most Popular Girl"—Mrs. Wendell Willkie; "Most Likely to Succeed"—District Attorney Tom Dewey; "Shyest Boy"—Vice President Garner; "Class Dunce" Emil Hurja, boisterous Democrat who predicted a whopping Willkie victory...

Frist laugh of the New Year: When Warren Jay Vinton, 50-year-old, much-married chief economist of the U. S. Housing Authority, asked a friend where to take his fifth bride on a honeymoon, the friend said, "Where did you go the other four times, Warren?"

BRONZE KINGFISH

Huey Long has returned to the halls of Congress.

A 7-foot bronze statue of the late "Kingfish" has been placed in Statuary Hall of the Capitol between two other noted figures, William Jennings Bryan and the elder Senator Robert M. LaFollette. Long's statue is covered with an American flag and will be formally unveiled at a ceremony sometime in January.

The work of Charles Keck, Brooklyn sculptor, the statue took several years to complete and cost $15,000. It is Louisiana's first contribution to Statuary Hall, each state being entitled to erect two statues.

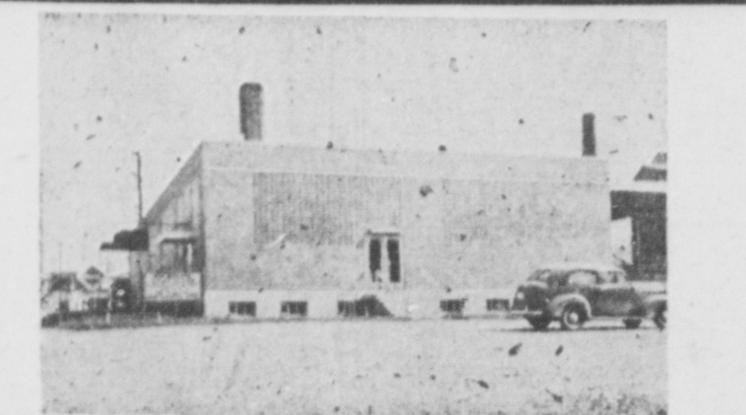

TRUIT R. TIMMONS ADDS NAME TO VOLUNTEERS

Truit R. Timmons, Circleville Route 1, became Pickaway County's thirty-eighth volunteer Tuesday. His order number was 1927.

The draft board office was closed Wednesday in celebration of New Year's Day.

So pronounced are the Nazi leanings of the President that his brother, Harmodio Arias, most influential newspaper publisher in Panama, has quarreled with him. Harmodio Arias gave Panama four years of excellent government as President from 1932 to 1936 and is one of the chief boosters of Panama-American cooperation. His opposition, however, has brought threats that his paper, Incense is burned in many British air raid shelters. Maybe that's the reason every Britisher was issued a gas mask.

OHIO TEACHERS PLAN SESSIONS

Education Association To Have Mid-Winter Meeting In Columbus

Approximately 2,000 of Ohio's public school teachers and administrators will meet in Columbus on January 3-4 for the 93rd annual meeting of the Ohio Education Association. Determination of the association's policy for 1941 on school legislation and discussions planned for professional improvement will occupy the attention of the educators during the two-day session, according to Executive Secretary Walton B. Bliss.

Harold A. Strous, superintendent at Saltcreek Township school and Judson Lanman, principal at Walnut, will be Pickaway County's official delegates at the meeting in Columbus.

Circleville schools will be represented by Joseph Horst of the high school faculty.

Scheduled for consideration at the business sessions of the Representative Assembly, official delegate body of the O.E.A., on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening are the association's legislative program, the report of its continuing contract and building commissions, and the recommendations of its research division, the Educational Council.

Eighteen departmental groups have scheduled meetings for Saturday morning on professional problems related to teaching and administration in special fields.

Among the speakers who will address these groups are the following:

Dr. L. H. Dennis, Executive Secretary of the American Vocational Association; Dr. W. S. Gray, University of Chicago;

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, Cleveland;

Dr. Harry A. Jager, U. S.

Office of Education; and Vaughn Blanchard, Supervisor of Health Education in the Detroit Public Schools.
